

NANCY'S RED is a shorter grower with the richest red color we've encountered. NATALENSIS is robust of foliage with flowers that turn from gold to flame, and PRIMROSE is an elegant pale yellow with slender flower spikes, blooming nearly all summer.

CANNAS have become our latest passion. Their bold tropical foliage and amazingly easy care make for ideal garden plants. Like roses, their history fell by the wayside, but a renewed interest in heirloom Cannas has made a wealth of old varieties available to us. We recommend ROSAMUND COLES, a red/yellow bicolor reminiscent of the old Pernetiana Hybrid Tea rose, CONDESA DE SASTAGO, AUSTRALIA is magnificent, a towering eight foot plant with darkest mahogany foliage and deep rose-red flowers. Most popular for us has been the 'Banana Canna', CANNA MUSAFOLIA GRANDE, with massive leaves, deep olive green edged in red; it achieves 8 to 10 feet in one season, rarely flowers and then with very small blooms of deep red. There are true WHITE Cannas to be had at long last; the two foot tall SNOW DRAGON, and the upright AMBASSADOUR, are now in stock. Stripes are popular, including the large and dramatic bronze, pink and cream of DURBAN, and the gold and green of PRETORIA, but rarer and more choice yet is PINK SURPRISE, a dwarf with red, cream and pink foliage and soft pink flowers! My favorites continue to be the soft, pastel flowers not usually associated with these bold plants: the soft peach of AIDA, the pale melon of MME. PAUL CASSENEUVE, the rich rose pink and cream of MAUDIE MALCOLM, and the cream colored flowers of EUREKA, CONESTOGA and CAROLINA MOON-GLOW. Our offering of over fifty varieties will change your mind about Cannas!
